Introduction

The Commonwealth of Krismettopia is a large, environmentally stunning nation. It is located in the Pacific Region, close to the Philippines. It holds a very humid and tropical climate the population of 3.4 million enjoy. The democratic population of Krismettopians also enjoy a sensible mix of personal and economic freedoms. The medium-sized government juggles the competing demands of Welfare, Education, and Law & Order. Krismettopia's national animal is the Chimpanzee, which frolics freely in the nation's many lush forests. Who wouldn't want to live in Krismettopia!

Flag

Flag: Explained

Krismettopia was founded as a nation of progress. The incomplete circle in the middle signifies what the people of this beautiful country strive for everyday, progress and excellence. Since our people believe there will always be progress to be made, the circle is not complete. The color white symbolizes the perfection that will never be reached, but the entire populations strives for.

Flag: Explained

The color grey in the bottom symbolizes the balance Krismettopians have on a mental, physical, and spiritual level. The red on the top symbolizes the strength and determination of the beautiful citizens of Krismettopia. The entirety of the flag couldn't describe better what a Krimettopian is at heart.

Geographical features

Origins

- The island was first colonized by the Swedish in 1800 and it was under their control until 1950.
- In 1950, the population of the island was weary of all the import and export taxes that the Swedish government had on all their ports and they fought with the British for two decades to get their independence.
- On October 4th, 1970, they were able to get their independence from Sweden and the couple that led the independence called Alice Cooperfield and Mark Fuerer became the first monarchs of the Commonwealth of Krismettopia.

Funeral

Death is the most expensive affair as it does not mean the end. On the contrary, it is merely passing on to another life. Thus many rituals are performed to help the departed soul get a better rebirth.

Festival

One of the most colorful festivals in the Krismettopian calendar is the Tsheshu performed in many parts of Krismettopia.

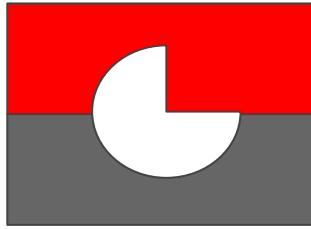

Tsheshu is a mask dance festival to commemorate the founding of the Commonwealth.

Culture

Birth

The birth of the child is always welcomed without gender discrimination. The outsiders, normally, do not visit the child for first three days as the house is considered polluted. A purification ritual (Lasanga) is conducted in the house, after which the outsiders come to the house to see the new born baby.

Type of government

Phaul
/Queen

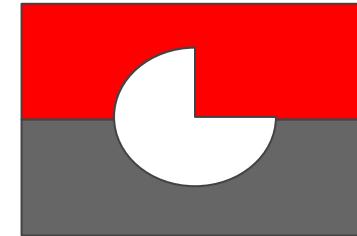

Gulag

Forte

The government is a democratic monarchy, it has two branches of government, the gulag and the forte, and two monarchs, the phaul and the queen.

The monarchs

- The monarchs have to be one male and one female and they serve that position until they die. If one of them dies, the other appoints a person approved by the legislature and the judicial branch to serve the vacant spot.
- The Phaul is the head of state and is in charge of managing the armed forces of the country, managing international trading, making foreign treaties, and is the public face of the country.

The monarchs

- The Queen is the head of government and is in charge of managing all the actions in the judicial and legislative branches, managing the social welfare of the citizens, and approving the laws and bills proposed by the legislative branch.

Gulag- Legislative branch

- It is an unicameral house.
- There are ten representatives directly elected out of each of the ten municipalities that lie in the Commonwealth of Krismettopia and they serve a term of five years in the unicameral house.
- The job of this branch is to:
  - Create and pass new laws into the government.
  - Impose taxes

Forte- Judicial Branch

- There is a national court system that consists of 10 main judges directly elected by the population and serve a term of twenty years.
- These judges are responsible for the major court cases produced in the country.
- They are also responsible for appointing five judges to each municipality to resolve the minor court cases.

Law-making process

1. There is a bill introduced into the gulag by any of the 100 members of the legislative branch, which is now called the sponsor of the bill.
2. The sponsor of the bill explains it to the rest of the gulag in a committee hearing that everyone is obligated to attend.
3. After the hearing, the gulag votes on the bill. If it has fifty one votes, the bill passes to the forte. But if it doesn't get that amount of votes, the bill is discarded.

Law-making process

4. In the Forte, five judges study the bill and if three of the five judges approve the bill, the bill passes to the Queen. But if two or less judges approve the bill, the bill is discarded.
5. When it gets to the Queen, she carefully reads the bill and if she approves it, it becomes the law of the land. But if she doesn't, the bill goes back to the gulag with amendments and has to go through the entire process again.
6. The second time a bill goes through the process, it doesn't need the Queen's approval to become a law. When it passes the forte, it becomes a law

Money

- The official currency is called the Rona.
- Official exchange values:
  - 1 Rona = $0.80 US dollars
  - 1 Rona = € 0.74 Euros
  - 1 Rona = £ 0.65

Type of Agriculture

The Krismettopian agriculture relies heavily on trout, coconut, and plantain farming mostly due to its geographical location.

Type of Economy

The economy of Krismettopia is a highly developed free-market economy characterised by low taxation, almost free port trade and well-established international financial market.

Type of Industry

The Krismettopian industry sector is led by the Woodchip Exports industry, with major contributions from Uranium raw materials export. These are followed by minor contributions from soap, natural gas, basic metal products, and microelectronics industries.
